A. & M. COLLEGE OF TEXAS BURNED

College Station, Tex., May 27.—Fire which was discovered at 2 o'clock this morning completely destroyed the main building of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, causing a loss of about $75,000.

Col. R. T. Milner, president of the A. & M. College of Texas, stated this morning that there would be no interruption in the work of the college on account of the fire. At a meeting of the faculty temporary arrangements were made for all departments of the college and the session will be completed according to regular schedule.

There will be no change in the program for commencement on account of the fire. Commencement exercises will begin Sunday, June 9, with the sermon by Rev. Peter Gray Sears of Houston, and will continue through June 11. There will be no interruption in this annual affair.

Just how the fire originated is not known. G. W. Ashford and W. G. Church, two senior cadets rooming in Foster Hall, were studying late into the small hours in preparations for the examinations which were scheduled for today. They heard a noise of something falling and then heard crackling flames. They looked out of their window and at first could not locate the sound. Then they saw a reflection of light in the windows of the Chemical building. Running in that direction they found the fire in the rear part of the main building, divided between the third and fourth floors. The alarm was given and the entire cadet corps and all the campus residents came out. Hose was stretched and the pumps were set going but Capt. C. L. Fenton, commandant of cadets, called the men out of the building as the stairways were burning, and it would have been dangerous to have risked human life within the building as the burning timbers from the top floor were dropping and there were towers and arches that would have fallen upon any men who tried to work against the flames. In the meantime the Bryan fire department had heard of the fire, and the alarm was sounded in that town. All the available automobiles in the town were brought into service and the Bryan hose was unreeled and piled into the cars. Mayor J. T. Maloney and members of the fire department coming in eighteen minutes from the time they made the alarm. But it was impossible for them to accomplish anything.

But while nothing could be done to save the building, there was some salvage from the offices. James Sullivan, secretary to the president and assistant, in the office of the college secretary, got into his office with a large number of students and many of the records of the office of the president, the secretary and the dean were got out. Another salvage crew was organized at the office of the treasurer and all of the "live" records of that office were saved. The safe was not taken out, but it is believed all in the safe was saved.

Other salvage crews worked in other parts of the first floor and the second floor and every particle of property that was in the reach of hands was taken out. The attention of the firemen from Bryan and the students of the college who were on the spot was turned to other buildings to see that they did not catch from flying sparks.

Elks at Hot Springs.

Hot Springs, Ark., May 28.—The city has delivered its keys to the Elks who are gathered here from all parts of the state to attend their annual state convention and for two days the jolly visitors will be royally entertained by the citizens. The delegates from Pine Bluff are working hard to have Pine Bluff selected as the place for the state convention of 1913.

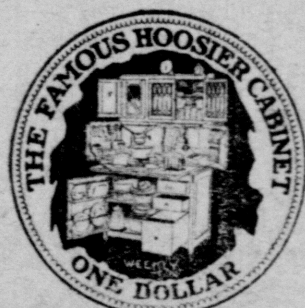

MEXICAN REBELS GET WORST OF THE FIGHT

Chihuahua, Mexico, May 28.—The Mexican rebels are rapidly running out of ammunition and feeling against the United States for preventing exportation of arms into Mexico runs high in the rebel zone. Lack of ammunition is one of the principal reasons why the insurgents have retreated before the advancing federals. To date the rebels have evacuated nearly 250 miles of territory along the Mexican Central lines and General Orozco, who arrived here today is mustering his men in an effort to check the federals at Machimba. This is a naturally fortified place with plenty of water, lack of which made fighting heretofore difficult.

The exact positions of the federals is not known here but they are believed to be near Jimenez, 150 miles south, which has been evacuated by the rear guard of the rebels, charged with the task of wrecking the railroad and burning bridges. Should the rebels be defeated at Machimba and driven out of Chihuahua it is practically certain that they will split into small bands and harass the government in guerilla warfare until such time as they can gather enough ammunition for a concentrated stand.

The rebels have about 6,000 men in this vicinity, losses in the retreat having been comparatively few. Only sixty-six men have been reported missing by the commander since the battle at Rellano. There are hardly any sick, but about 150 wounded are in the hospital.

TAHLEQUAH AND FORT GIBSON

VISITED BY THE PRESS GANG
ROYALLY ENTERTAINED BY CITIZENS OF TAHLEQUAH.

No account of the meeting of the State Press Association would be complete without a story of the free excursion run by the Frisco to Tahlequah and Fort Gibson. C. O. Jackson of Oklahoma City, Division passenger agent, was personally in charge of the excursion, and although both he and the Frisco road have always been most considerate of the newspaper fraternity they did themselves proud on this occasion, thereby cementing more firmly than ever the cordial feelings that have always existed. Only about 200 had signified their intention of going, but when the hour of departure arrived, fully 350 were on hand. Mr. Jackson made no kick, but had two more coaches coupled on and the jolly crowd was on its way.

Every man at Tahlequah who had a conveyance of any kind was at the depot, when the train arrived, and the procession was over a mile in length when the rigs were filled with visitors and headed for town. The visitors and their hosts first assembled on the grounds of the old Cherokee capitol, where a short address of welcome was made by W. W. Hastings, national attorney of the Cherokee Nation, and a response made by Horace Shepherd, president of the Press association. The Tahlequah band gave several excellent numbers, and the visitors invited to the normal campus for dinner. Several winsome lassies passed among the crowd with roses which they pinned on the visitors.

Although not expecting so many visitors, the Tahlequah people were equal to the occasion, and there was plenty of dinner for all. The bill of fare consisted of well cooked barbecue, pies, cakes, coffee, ice cream and other delicacies.

After lunch many of the visitors visited the normal building. This school is very dear to the hearts of the Cherokees, for it was the one where their girls for several generations received their education, and the Cherokees are a people, who are with good reason proud of their past history. The building is ideally located. It crowns an eminence which is clad with beautiful shade trees, and at the bottom of which are many fine springs. The campus comprises about forty acres. The building could not be replaced for less than $100,000, although as an inducement to have the normal located there, the building and grounds were sold to the state for only $40,000. Naturally the people resent Mr. Akin's plan to convert their school into a bat cave.

Tahlequah claims about 3,000 inhabitants, and is steadily improving. It is one of the first towns established in the Indian Territory, dating back to the early '30's, although it never grew much until the advent of the railroad. The town is located on a number of hills and amid beautiful forest trees, which give a pleasing effect. Like Ada it gets its water supply from springs, which are abundant in number and volume of water.

After being most royally entertained at Tahlequah, the knights of the quill boarded the train and were taken back to Fort Gibson, where for over an hour they were shown over one of the most historic spots of the state. For many years Fort Gibson was the western outpost of civilization and a place of no small importance. However, with the location of the Katy line on its present route and the building of Muskogee and the abandonment of the post by the government, the old place lost its importance. However, it now has two railroads and an electric line to Muskogee, and is a thriving looking town.

It was the good fortune of the writer to fall in with A. H. Norwood, editor of the Dewey Globe, who came to Fort Gibson forty-two years ago and lived there for some years. Mr. Norwood pointed out many spots of historic interest, including the site of the house occupied by Jefferson Davis when he was stationed there, the spot on which stood the little school house where Henry M. Stanley, the noted African explorer taught school, the house where Jas. G. Blaine lay ill for a considerable period, the site of Washington Irving's tent when he started on his tour of the prairies, and other notable places. The site of Irving's tent is marked with a small marble monument. It is also stated that Longfellow spent some little time at this western post, and it was no doubt here that he received much inspiration for his poetical work, for the man who would not be appealed to by the beauty of this spot is indeed too calloused to be reached in any manner whatever. In the early days the fort was connected with the outside world by a stage line running from Kansas to Texas and another to Fort Smith.

Mr. Norwood told of how Gen. Sherman was put to flight here by a Southern woman who kept the only hotel at the fort. Her father's home had been burned by Sherman's army during the Civil War, and she never forgave this injury. When Sherman, then in command of the army of the United States, called at Fort Gibson, she met him at the door and told him he could never sleep under her roof and to make himself scarce around there. There was nothing for it except for the general to make his headquarters with the officers of the post while there.

Many of the visitors went through the school for the blind and were entertained by the blind children who are here being educated.

Before arriving at Fort Gibson, Dr. Frank P. Davis of Enid gave a dissertation on the value of buttermilk as a food, and declared he would get a supply when the train stopped. The other editors called his attention to every cow a long the road for the next half hour poking him about his hobby, but when once off the train he made good, and managed to secure two gallons of excellent milk, which he passed around.

KENTUCKY DEMOCRATS ARE ASSEMBLING

Louisville, Ky., May 28.—Kentucky's twenty-six delegates to the democratic national convention will be selected in this city tomorrow. The state convention, which will name the four delegates-at-large, will be preceded earlier in the day by the conventions of the eleven congressional districts, the delegates to which will serve later as the 1224 delegates to the state convention.

Kentucky has no favorite son in the field for the presidential nomination, but the sentiments expressed by the party leaders now assembled in the city indicates that the undoubted preference is for Champ Clark, who is a native of the Blue Grass state. For a time Woodrow Wilson appeared to have the call in Kentucky, but the controversy between the New Jersey governor and Henry Watterson changed the situation materially. As Wilson stock has declined, Clark stock has risen. Governor Harmon is not regarded as a factor in the contest, while Congressman Underwood, who, like Mr. Clark, is a native of Kentucky, has not solicited the support of the democrats in this state.

The Clark supporters are preparing to fight hard to have tomorrow's conventions instruct for the speaker. But in spite of these aggressive efforts, it appears possible that the wish of some of the prominent leaders that Kentucky's delegation go uninstructed to Baltimore may be realized.

It is expected that the big fight in the convention will be, not over the selection of delegates to Baltimore or on the question of instructing the delegation, but over the control of the state organization. The fight is between Henry Watterson and Senator-elect Ollie James on one hand and former Governor Beckham and Gen. Percy Haly on the other.

Cruelty to the Bears.

At the final meeting of the newspaper men at Hyde Park, Muskogee, it was moved that at the close of the session Col. Sidney Suggs be placed in the cage with the two black bears and made to deliver a lecture to the varmints on the subject of good roads. The motion was objected to, however, and lost on the ground that the editors should not thus countenance cruelty to animals.

Tulsa, Ok., May 28.—With a large attendance and interesting sessions, the meeting of the First Eastern Oklahoma Missionary conference in Tulsa last week proved an unqualified success. RESTORE GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

By Common Garden Sage, a Simple Remedy for Dandruff, Falling, Faded, Gray Hair.

The old idea of using sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers used to have dark, glossy hair at the age of 75, while our mothers have white hair before 50. Our grandmothers used to make a "sage tea" and apply it to their hair. The tea made their hair soft and glossy, and gradually restored the natural color.

One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it, especially as it had to be made every two or three days, on account of souring quickly. This objection has been overcome, and by asking almost any first-class druggist for Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy the public can get a superior preparation of sage, with the admixture of sulphur, another valuable remedy for hair and scalp troubles. Daily use of this preparation will not only quickly restore the color of the hair, but will also stop the hair from falling out and make it grow.

Get a bottle from your druggist today. Use it and see for yourself how quickly dandruff goes and gray hairs vanish.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle. Special Agents, Gwin & Mays Drug Co.

PENSIONS CAUSE DISCORD IN SOME HOMES

Washington, D. C., May 28.—As a disturbing influence and a disrupter of happy homes the recently passed Sherwood age and service pension law seems to be a blue ribbon winner and in many cases old soldiers are refusing to apply for an increased pension as allowed under the law, rather than share their good fortune with their life's partners.

Not long ago, the widow of an old soldier, living in Oklahoma, who afterwards married, appealed to one of the Oklahoma congressmen, to use his influence to have her reinstated on the pension rolls, upon the promise that if she could again receive $12 a month as the widow of her deceased soldier husband, that she would at once divorce her subsequently acquired spouse.

This week one of the west side Oklahoma congressmen had a letter from an old pensioner asking for advice before he forwarded his application for an increase of pension under the new law, because, as he stated, he feared he would have to share his increase with his wife.

"If I have to share my increase with my wife under the new law," wrote the old veteran, "I must first get a divorce for she now gets half of my $12 a month pension."

Although entitled to an increase of $6 a month under the new law, the old soldier prefers to get along without an additional $3 spending money a month, if he has to share it with his wife.

GRANDFATHER CASE

BEFORE U. S. COURT
Guthrie, Ok., May 28.—George W. Zimmerman, assistant United States attorney, today returned from St. Paul, where he argued before the United States court of appeals the Oklahoma "grandfather clause" case, involving the conviction of Jack Guinn and J. J. Beall, the Kingfisher county election officials. His arguments were based on the briefs filed in the case by John Embury, former United States attorney, who secured the convictions. C. B. Stuart of Oklahoma City appeared for the defendants and for the democratic state organization. Stuart argued that the "grandfather clause" law's validity was not properly shown in this case and that Sec. 19 of the federal criminal code, the conspiracy act under which Guinn and Beal were convicted, does not apply to political rights as among those guaranteed.

BIG ZINC STRIKE IN VICINITY OF BROMIDE

Bromide, Okla., May 28.—Zinc sulphide of the richest quality and apparently in unlimited quantities have been found at Bromide, Johnston county, during the past week, and that section promises to add another to the long list of valuable minerals now produced in Oklahoma.

Various mining operations have been going on in and around Bromide for some time, and the new discovery was made by Robert Galbreath and his associates, who have opened up great oolitic stone quarries at that place. Minerals of many kinds, and all in paying quantities have been found at Bromide, including glass sand of which the supply is practically unlimited.

From tests which have been made of the zinc sulphide, the mineral from which commercial zinc is extracted, it is extremely rich in the product, the minimum value of any yet taken out running $65 per ton, while the greater portion will run in excess of that sum, making it exceed in richness even the famous mines around Joplin, Mo.

Working but a short time, a small party with only mining tools used by hand, took out a ton of the valuable mineral one day last week. The sulphide is found between a wall of granite and lime and the deposit apparently is a large one, covering a very extensive territory.

It also is thought that lead ore will be found in paying quantities under the zinc, making the section easily one of the richest in a state where nature has been lavish in her distribution of mineral wealth.

SWAMP CAMPBELL'S DOGS.

Poetic Threat Is Made Against Them by Anonymous Writer.

Because he has received an anonymous threat against his "houn' daws," Colonel "Swamp" Campbell, clerk of the supreme court and one of the best known dog fanciers in Oklahoma, is threatening to pick up the state capital bodily and carry it back to Guthrie. Here is the verse: Ever since you come to town, I've been hearing them hounds around. Every time when I lie down, I hear a yelp from that old houn. And I am going to keep kicking them daws around.

Until you move clear out of town. Colonel Campbell is inclined to blame some of his former Texas acquaintances who have followed him to Oklahoma City and now live in the same neighborhood, but who have no dogs of their own.—Oklahoma City Times.

HEAVY VOTE BEING POLLED

ELECTION VERY QUIET, BUT CANDIDATES ARE BRINGING OUT VOTES.

As usual, the election today was a very quiet affair, although the candidates were all busy putting the finishing touches on their campaigns. The result in every race is very much in doubt, and it is practically certain that both the race for mayor and commissioner of public works must be carried on until the final election two weeks hence.

With five in field for mayor and four for commissioner of public works, it is hard to see how any man can receive a clear majority. Very few men could be found today who would bank much on their ability to select the high men.

At 3 o'clock 525 votes had been cast and the indications are that fully 700 will be polled by 7 o'clock. This will be almost a full vote.

OKLAHOMA SINGERS WILL MEET FRIDAY

The Oklahoma State Musical Convention will convene at the normal auditorium Friday morning at 10 o'clock and will continue until Sunday afternoon. A full program will be published tomorrow.

Musicians from every quarter of the state will attend and the matter of finding boarding accommodations for them will be something of a task, unless citizens having spare rooms will come to the rescue. The delegates should be shown every courtesy while here, for coming from widely scattered communities, they will be in a position to give the town some nice advertising when they leave.

Origin and Design.

The Oklahoma State Musical Convention was the first institution of the kind organized in the state. It is now a chartered benevolent organization and operating under our laws. After the present session has ended in all probability a history will be written and published with the minutes.

Its design was to bring all the music forces of the state into one body, and for a co-operative work among these for the up-building of music in the great state of Oklahoma. To this end all teachers, chorus conductors and music lovers have been invited to take part with us each year since its organization.

Advocates Leaves of Soap.

A chemical friend of the Scientific American suggests that a campaign be started against the common cake of soap. About 50 years ago there was sold a form of soap for travelers, consisting of a booklet, about two inches by four inches, in which small leaves of soap paper saturated with soap were bound. Each leaf contained enough soap for one washing of the hands. It is suggested that one might profitably dispense, through a penny-in-the-slot machine, a paper towel in which is folded a sheet of soap paper, for convenient use in public lavatories.

TAFE WILL NOT INTERVENE IN CUBA

Washington, May 27.—President Taft today replied to President Gomez's telegram of yesterday regarding the attitude of the United States toward Cuba. He declared the American government's activities in mobilizing war vessels at Key West and dispatching the Prairie with marines to Guantanamo was not in any sense an intervention move.

The following is the text of the message: "I am sincerely gratified to learn of your government's energetic measures to put down the disturbance and to know that you are confident of being successful. As was fully explained to the Cuban charge d'affaires, this government's motive in sending ships to Key West, just as sending the Prairie to the Guantanamo naval station, was merely to be able to act promptly in case it should become necessary to protect American life and property by rendering moral support or assistance to the Cuban government. As was made quite clear at the time, these ordinary measures of precaution were entirely dissociated from any question of intervention. (Signed) Wm. H. Taft."

Evanston, Ill., May 28.—The annual meeting of the Illinois Mayors' Association opened here today at the Evanston theatre for a session extending over two days. The opening session this morning was devoted to the welcoming exercises. After Mayor Joseph E. Paden had delivered his address of welcome on behalf of the city several of the visiting mayors responded. Then Dr. Frank Billings of Chicago addressed the meeting on the subject of "What Shall We Do With Our Epileptics?" Among the other speakers scheduled to address the meetings are Wm. J. IN HONOR OF MISS MINNIE CASTLEBERRY

Monday evening Prof. and Mrs. L. J. Wilson entertained a number of friends in honor of Miss Minnie Castleberry, a charming young lady from McCune, Kan., who has been visiting them for the past few days. The Wilsons proved themselves ideal entertainers, and from the time each guest was met at the door with a cordial greeting until the last good bye was said, the evening was full of life and interest, and the guest of honor won the hearts of all visitors.

After a round of conversation among the guests, progressive 42 was started and the players began the round of seven tables, a number failing to exhibit sufficient skill to complete the circuit. At the close of the game delicious cream and cake was served.

Those present were Misses Timberlake, Baker, King, Ruble, Clarke, Wingo, Turner, Wright, Knight, Tolbert, Mmes. Wingo, Henderson, Perkins, Sears, R. E. Blanks, A. B. Blanks, Fentem, Messrs. McShaffery, Warren, Little, Cox, Norrell, Henderson, Bobbitt, Blanks, Fentem, Perkins, Schulte.

REFORMERS WIN DENVER ELECTION

Denver, Colo., May 28.—Judge B. Lindsey, father of the juvenile court, has led Denver out of the jungle and killed the Beast of corporation rule by a clean-cut majority of over 10,000 votes over both the old political parties.

The newly elected mayor of Denver, Henry J. Arnold, whose political career resembles that of Lindsey. Two years ago, new in politics, he was elected on a machine ticket as assessor. Once in office, he refused to obey the will of the bosses. He tried to add a million dollars to the assessment against the street railroad, the property of Boss Evans, who is the head and front of the corporation political combine. The gang removed him by force.

The people gathered 50,000 strong on the statehouse grounds to protest. That was the real beginning of the campaign. Arnold was selected as the mayoralty candidate on the independent ticket. Lindsey was named to succeed himself. The platform pledged the expulsion of the corporation from politics.

The campaign was the bitterest ever waged in Denver. The two par-

S.S.S. HEALS SORES AND ULCERS

S. S. S. heals Sores and Ulcers in the very simplest way. It just goes right down into the blood and removes the cause, and the place is bound to heal because the impurities and morbid matters which have been the means of keeping the ulcer open are no longer absorbed from the blood. External applications of salves, lotions, plasters, etc., can never produce a cure because they do not reach the source of the trouble. At best they can only allay pain or reduce inflammation; such treatment is working on symptoms and not reaching the cause. Every nutritive corpuscle in the blood is weakened or infected, they cannot nourish the fibrous tissue around the place, but instead they constantly discharge into the flesh around the sore a quantity of impure, germ-laden matter which gradually eats into the surrounding healthy tissue and causes the ulcer to enlarge. Since impure blood is the only hope of a cure. S. S. S. has long been recognized as the greatest of all blood purifiers, possessing the qualities necessary to remove every impurity from the blood. While curing the sore or ulcer S. S. S. brings about a healthy condition of the flesh by supplying it with rich, healthy blood, and thus makes the cure permanent and lasting. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

ty tickets, both admittedly named by the corporations, quarreled as to which should receive the largest share of funds which should have the benefit of the vice vote. Ignoring real issues, they turned loose stories of scandal and graft against the independent candidates.

"The Beast is now a pollicat," warned Lindsey, and the people simply laughed at the stories.

Lindsey went into every ward. The machine had gerrymandered the city so as to make the capture of one branch of the city council practically impossible. About one-fifth of the population were divided among the first seven wards, while the other four-fifths live in the remaining nine. In the seven live those who can generally be controlled by fear of the police.

Lindsey went into each of these wards, preaching his gospel of justice to derelicts and violators of laws.

The result was that those who might be thrown into jail for their manner of living, defied the machine-rulled police and cast their first free votes. The power of the police in coercing votes is increased in red light locations by women suffrage. Women who have been forced to the gutter fear police. The usual custom is for the police to give them their orders how to vote, and they generally obey.

This time they answered an appeal to conscience.

Threats of assassination were made against Lindsey if he invaded the gang wards.

His reply was to speak from every corner, reading the records of the councilmen.

The political upheaval in Denver means a similar change in the state. The vote in Denver practically controls the state legislature and the nominations of both parties.

"On to the state!" is the cry raised by the independent forces in their struggle for political freedom.
